

A horizontal bar representing memory layout is divided into three sections. The left section is blue and labeled 'Application'. The middle section is white and unlabeled. The right section is green and labeled 'Kernel'. Below the bar, the address '00000000' is aligned with the start of the blue section, and 'ffffffff' is aligned with the start of the green section.

Application

Kernel

00000000

ffffffff