

A horizontal bar representing memory layout is divided into three segments. The left segment is blue and labeled 'Application'. The middle segment is white and unlabeled. The right segment is green and labeled 'Kernel'. Below the bar, the address '000000' is aligned with the start of the blue segment, and 'ffffffff' is aligned with the start of the green segment.

Application

Kernel

000000

ffffffff